[Edward Irbie married Ann, sister of Sir George Yeardley, Governor of Virginia. See Brown's Genesis, II, 1065. Mr. Brown states positively that Sir George was a son of Ralph Yeardley, citizen and merchant-taylor of London. Mr. T. T. Upshur in his Sir George Yeardley (Nashville, 1896), says that the Governor was son of William Yeardley, of Yeardley, Staffordshire, but gives no details of proof. From the various references which occur in contemporary writings it is almost certain that Sir George was a son of the merchant-taylor.—ED.]

a commissioner (justice) in 1633, &c., was a member of the House of Burgesses 1642-3, and appointed to the council in 1652. He returned to England in or before 1661. His brother Edmund Chisman, who was living at Elizabeth City in 1624, aged 22, also settled in York county, where his will was proved Feb. 4, 1678. Rudd, 101.

[Anthony Gosnold, "the younger," was a member of the Virginia Company. Two persons named Anthony Gosnold, doubtless father and son, went with the first planters to Virginia. Brown says (Genesis, II, 904), that the younger Anthony went to Virginia in the first expedition with his father and uncle—Bartholomew Gosnold must have been meant as the uncle. But a "Master Anthony Gosnol" was drowned in Virginia, Jan. 7, 1609. Therefore the son Anthony, to whom a bequest was made in 1615, could not have been the one who went to Virginia in 1606-7.—ED.]

[Mr. Lea included this will in his Gosnold notes printed in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vol. lvi, p. 405, (October, 1902), but by some extraordinary slip he missed the reference to the grandson in Virginia. I hope this will help in his search for the great Bartholomew, the patriarch of all Massachusetts pioneers.—L. W.]
